In April, teachers organized a special Welcome Assembly to greet the students for the new academic session. On the first day, the students took part in a fun activity where they made colorful trees. These trees represented a bright and joyful year ahead. The students enjoyed the activity and showed their creativity. The teachers also made welcome cards for their students and gave them with love and warmth.

As part of our health and wellness awareness initiative under the CBSE curriculum, our school organized an informative and engaging activity titled ‘Sugar Board’. The primary aim was to educate students about the rising cases of diabetes in children, which is often linked to high sugar consumption and poor dietary habits. During the activity, a colorful and eye-catching Sugar Awareness Board was created and displayed prominently in the school corridor. This board illustrated the hidden sugar content in various commonly consumed food items such as soft drinks, packaged snacks, chocolates, pastries, and fast food. The students were actively engaged in a discussion session, where they learned to distinguish between healthy and junk food. Through visual aids and real-life examples, they were shown how excess sugar affects the body, leading to long-term health problems including early-onset diabetes. To encourage better eating habits, students were also introduced to healthy alternatives to their favorite junk foods.
