"The beautiful thing about learning is that no one can take it away from you." — B.B. King

Dear Parents,

Greetings from Imperial Heritage School!

Welcome to another exciting month at IHS! We are delighted to have you as an integral part of our school community. Your dedication and support continue to play a vital role in shaping our students' success and creating a nurturing environment where they can learn, grow and flourish.

As we step into November, the air turns cooler, the days grow shorter, and the festive spirit gradually gives way to a season of reflection, gratitude and togetherness. November brings with it the warmth of family gatherings, the joy of sharing, and the beauty of traditions that remind us of our rich cultural heritage. It is also a month that encourages us to celebrate the values of kindness, compassion and unity. As we move towards the end of the year, let us take a moment to appreciate the little things, acknowledge the efforts of those around us, and nurture a spirit of thankfulness. At IHS, let us continue to inspire our children to spread happiness, embrace diversity and make every day meaningful through thoughtful actions and a grateful heart.

November & January— Mental Health

Mental health concerns and self-harm most commonly emerge in this phase. Parents might be the last to know because children this age conceal distress from parents and because parents are not trained to look.

Parent focus: Some themes that could be emphasized at this stage of development are outlined- The warning signs specific to this age — withdrawal, sleep changes, grade drops, loss of interest in previously loved activities; the selfharm conversation; not reacting with panic when a child discloses; knowing the school counselor by name. In addition, it is advisable to meet parents regularly for feedback and reflection.

Subject Enrichment Activities: In CT and AI, students turned the computer lab into a dynamic AI hub. To truly understand the core concepts and inner workings of Natural Language Processing (NLP), students engaged in an interactive learning session by playing Google Semantris—an AI-powered word association game. In Science, students explored the differences between elements, compounds, and mixtures through hands-on experiments. They observed the reaction between iron and sulphur, the electrolysis of water, and the heating of sugar, which produced charcoal and water droplets. These practical activities enhanced their conceptual understanding through experiential learning. In Hindi, 'Vigyapan Lekhan' activity was undertaken.The activity provided a platform for students to showcase their originality, artistic talent and language skills. They created attractive and meaningful advertisements on various themes, using appealing illustrations, impactful slogans and engaging messages to make their work creative and effective. In SST, students creatively illustrated the world map and accurately located famous mountain ranges across the globe. This engaging map-based activity enhanced their geographical knowledge, strengthened map-reading and spatial awareness skills, and helped them understand the distribution of major mountain ranges worldwide through hands-on learning. In Mathematics, students explored the concept of finding shared ratios through pie charts. They learned how to calculate the share of each category using the given degree measures and represent the data accurately in a circle. With the help of a protractor, they measured the angles carefully and drew the sectors to create pie charts. This hands-on activity helped them understand the relationship between angles, fractions, and ratios while developing their skills in accurate measurement, data representation, and interpretation.
